

A GUIDE TO JOINING THE TALANOA CALL FOR ACTION

Talanoa is a Pacific concept of telling stories to build trust, forge consensus and make decisions. It's much more than talk - it's about driving action for the collective good. Through its Presidency of the Conference of the Parties (COP), Fiji has introduced this methodology to the world of climate diplomacy through the Talanoa Dialogue.

This year long process has unfolded through hundreds of talanoas around the world, where participants have brought forward their best ideas, the newest technologies and the most innovative solutions in a global effort to learn from one another. Ultimately, the Talanoa Dialogue seeks to help countries prepare updated or new emission reduction targets by 2020, which are in line with the long-term goal of the Paris Agreement.

At COP24, this process culminated in a talanoa amongst ministers from around the world, who discussed where we need to go from here. Following this, the Fijian and Polish COP Presidencies issued the Talanoa Call for Action to national governments, cities and regions, business leaders, civil society, religious communities and youth groups. Now, we are asking you to join us in this call for more ambitious climate action. Here's how.
